

Texas Hold'em Bonus® pits you against the dealer in heads-up hands. If your ending five-card poker hand is higher than the dealer's, you win regardless of whether other players have a higher hand than yours. Texas Hold'em Bonus also offers the optional Bonus wager.

GETTING STARTED

To play, you must make the ante wager and you may also place a Bonus wager. You will then receive two cards.

PLAYING THE GAME

Once you receive your two hole cards, you can either fold or bet 2x your ante. Once the dealer reveals the three-card flop, you have a choice: check or place a bet equal to your ante. The dealer will then reveal the fourth community card, and again you have the option to check or place a bet equal to your ante. Finally, the fifth community card is revealed; no more bets are accepted and the dealer turns over all cards and makes the best five-card hand.

WINNING & LOSING

The dealer reveals their two hole cards and announces the hand. If your hand is higher than the dealer's hand, you win even money on all bets. The ante also wins 1 to 1 if your hand contains a straight or better. If you lose, the dealer takes all your bets.

BONUS WAGER

If you made a Bonus wager, the dealer will compare your two card hand to the posted payable. You do not need to win in the base game to be paid on the bonus wager, provided the wager was placed prior to any cards being dealt and your hand matches one of the payout hands. See payable for odds.

Note: Bonus wager payouts are based on the player's two hole cards ONLY.
